Harvey's Point 4* Hotel Donegal celebrating 20 years of Hospitality

Nestled at the foot of the Bluestack Mountains of Donegal, and overlooking the still waters of Lough Eske, Harvey's Point Hotel, currently celebrating 20 years of successful business, began as an Irish cottage belonging to the Harvey brothers, which was bought by Swiss-born Jody Gysling – he felt an instant affinity with the location, calling it his 'little piece of Switzerland'. Marc Gysling later followed his brother from Zurich to Donegal, and the two set about welcoming guests with their delicious cuisine and fine wines. Marc was soon to meet and marry Donegal girl Deirdre McGlone, who shared in the Gyslins vision of a 'Swiss Made in Ireland' experience, and in 1989 together they opened Harvey's Point Hotel - now renowned for its luxurious accommodation, excellent food, high levels of service and above all, an Irish welcome.

Boasting seventy superbly appointed lavish bedrooms, including executive, deluxe and premium suites, four penthouses and sixteen charming courtyard suites situated close to the lake, amidst the splendid gardens. The restaurant offers panoramic views over Lough Eske and the mountains beyond, with scrumptious dishes for every occasion guaranteed. There is also an intimate reading room where guests can relax beside log-fires, a cosy bar and majestic conference & banqueting suite, which all bear the elegance and sophistication that Marc Gysling and Deirdre McGlone have fostered for many years through observing the décor of top hotels across the world, while adding their own personal touches.

In 2007, the luxurious 4-star hotel was the delighted recipient of the AA Hotel of the Year Award 2007/2008 - awarded to hotels recognised as being outstanding examples in their particular market. This accolade makes for exceptionally high standards of accommodation, food and hospitality, reflecting the dedication, professionalism and effort on the part of the owners, management and staff at Harvey's Point. The AA Award was followed closely by the announcement of a Condé Nast Award for 2008 for Most Excellent Service. Luck definitely came in threes last year as this prestigious accolade follows the Optimus 'Mark of Best Practice' Award 2007, making it the third Optimus award for Harvey's Point.

The famous Cabaret at Harvey's Point which takes place every Wednesday night from June through October, has established itself as the premier social event in the North West. Hosted in the luxurious surroundings of the Gourmet Suite at Harvey's Point, this event brings together the finest cabaret musical talents in the country. The picturesque hotel also runs a series of unusual midweek and weekend breaks; including creative writing workshops, watercolour painting classes, guided rambles in the hills and dancing for pleasure. Local attractions include Glenveagh National Park, Slieve League and the Waterbus on Donegal Bay making Harvey's Point truly the ultimate destination for a vacation. Golf is a major attraction with close proximity to many championship links courses. Special arrangements are available for green fees, availability and transfers etc. A new exciting range of wedding packages have also been created by Harvey's Point, which offer not only immense variety but also exceptional value.

Travel to Harvey's Point is hassle-free as the hotel is only 6 Km from Donegal Town, Dublin Airport is approximately three and a half hours drive (245 Km) from Harvey's Point, Belfast is just over two hours (185KM), Derry an hour's drive (75Km) and from Shannon International Airport the journey takes just over 4 hours to reach (280 Km). Both Sligo Airport and Ireland West Airport Knock are located close to the magnificent property, collection from the airport can be arranged for guests. There is also ample secure parking within the gated grounds of the hotel.
