Harvey's Love Story...

Harvey's Point has its very own Love Story all about a local girl straight out of college and a boy from Switzerland who came to Donegal at the request of his brother to help him create what is now recognised as one of the best hotels in Ireland.

While visiting Ireland over 30 years ago, Jody Gysling fell in love with Donegal and an old cottage at Lough Eske just outside Donegal Town known locally as Harvey's Point. Fast forward a few years and Jody was joined by his brother Marc at his expanding Harvey's Point Hotel. Deirdre McGlone was a local girl who, following her studies came to work as a receptionist and in exchange for 'a few pints' agreed to help Marc with his English. Romance blossomed and Deirdre and Marc celebrated their wedding at Harvey's Point on Valentine's Day 1996. Much like the hotel itself, their family has expanded over the years to include three children with Carl, James and Christina who have all grown up as part of the Harvey's Point story.

Jody, Marc & Deirdre (known as the three musketeers) have worked together since 1989 to make Harvey's Point what it is today, a luxury 4 star resort hotel. They coined the phrase 'Swiss Made in Ireland' which reflects a marriage of expertise; Swiss Hotel-Keeping and Irish hospitality. Having had their own 'perfect' wedding day at Harvey's Point they have sought to create that same perfection for all the couples wanting to celebrate their marriage at Harvey's Point.

With this in mind a dedicated Wedding Suite was built and an experienced team put in place to cater for the ever popular Weddings at Harvey's Point.
